Now Everybody Sing…

“Matchmaker, matchmaker, make me a match.

Find me a find, catch me a catch.

Matchmaker, matchmaker, look through your book

And make me a perfect match.”
What matchmakers can teach us

• Third party involvement is sometimes necessary

• Don’t be shy about what you bring

• Be clear about what you want and need

• Don’t try to get everyone to agree on everything

• Pick one thing and make sure everyone agrees on that

• Put everything in writing
According to the IRS: A partnership is the relationship existing between two or more persons who join to carry on a trade or business.

Each person contributes money, property, labor or skill, and expects to share in the profits and losses of the business.
• According to Business Dictionary.com: Collaboration is a cooperative arrangement in which two or more parties (which may or may not have any previous relationship) work jointly towards a common goal.
In relationships...

• People share a clear sense of purpose

• Agree on strategies to reach their goals

• Hold common values

• Rise to certain behavioral standards

They have a mission.

Unexpected and Unusual = Stronger and more effective
DC Campaign’s Secondary Prevention Coalition

- Includes advocates, youth-serving organizations, legal experts and providers working with pregnant and parenting teens
- Works to prevent subsequent pregnancies among teen parents
- Provides an opportunity for networking
- Information on District initiatives affecting teen parents
- Increases program collaboration
- Decreases fragmentation
Operating Principles

• Treat all teens with courtesy and respect.

• Teens are the experts on their own lives.

• Teens who are parents have multiple roles, multiple demands and multiple needs.

• There are many effective ways to reach teens.

• Every program has valuable lessons learned to share.

• No one has all the answers.

• Secondary prevention should include boys and girls, young men and young women, parents and non-parents.
